NDIS SUPPORT COORDINATION

Working with people with intellectual disability and complex needs:

-  who are homeless or at risk
-  experiencing psychosocial disability
-  transitioning from child safety
-  experiencing legal complexity
-  exhibiting challenging behaviours
-  parenting their own children.

Our strong framework and relationships with other services translate to effective NDIS Support Coordination focused on capacity building that delivers results. We have been strong advocates for marginalised people.

KATE'S STORY

Kate has an intellectual disability, a sexual abuse history and grew up in institutions. Her behaviours meant that many services would not work with her. When she came to CLA she was homeless.*

CLA was able to help Kate to find support to sustain tenancies to overcome her homelessness and teach her valuable life skills. We facilitated a relationship with legal aid and linked her to a service to begin addressing her health and literacy issues. This relationship increased her capacity in problem solving, self care and reduced her vulnerability to exploitation.
